

SHB 1009 Items for Consideration

1. How to treat children from other relationships (Whole Family Formula?)
2. Should the Economic Table include combined income more than $5000?
3. Should we start the economic table at 125% of the federal poverty guidelines, and then move upward in $100 increments?
4. Should we collapse the table, so there is no distinction between children under 12 and over 12?
5. Should child care costs and ordinary medical costs be included in the table or treated separately?
6. Should we base the economic table on the Rothbarth estimator, Engel estimator, or some other basis?
7. Should we tie the self-support reserve to the federal poverty guidelines?
8. How should we treat imputation of income, including whether to consider imputing minimum wage in the absence of adequate information?
9. How should extraordinary medical expenses be addressed – through the basic support obligation or independently?
10. Should we adjust the $25 presumptive minimum amount?
11. Should gross or net income be used for calculating the child support obligation?
12. How should we treat overtime income or income from a second job in calculating the support obligation?
13. Should the noncustodial parent's child support obligation be limited to 45% of net income?
14. Should the residential schedule affect the amount of the child support obligation?
